August 2014 E-Announcements

Message from ICNY Executive Director

Dear Friends,

News from the Middle East has not been good and we feel the ripples here in New York. The Islamic Center at NYU, together with Islamic Relief, is hosting an Emergency Fundraiser for Gaza on Sunday, August 10th. Funds raised will directly impact people in Gaza. In addition, Funds can be sent to support the bereft and wounded in Israel via through the UJA Federation of New York. Also, see Truah's statement (formerly Rabbis for Human Rights).

Closer to home the death of Eric Gardner at the hands of Staten Island Police brings up questions of police accountability as it relates past and present to both race and religion. Sign on to this petition for further investigation.

Here at the Interfaith Center we are welcoming volunteers to gain valuable experience while working with us on diverse programs. If you're interested in volunteering time to ICNY, and are skilled in Photography, Videography, Social Media, Data-Entry/Database, please email your resume to elly@interfaithcenter.org.

This month we are pleased and honored to welcome our first guest blogger. Ram Mohan, a Trustee at The Hindu Temple Society of

Thursday Hospitality Fundraiser:

North America, launches our inaugural guest blog with this piece about how interfaith engagement (though programs such as those offered by ICNY) help faith communities connect with each other and work together on issues of common concern.

The "Faith Leader Spotlight" is a monthly installment featuring faith leaders working with New Yorkers in need. This series was created by ICNY interns and Princeton students Anna Rubin and Kujegi Camara who participate in the Interfaith Summer Internship Program of the Office of Religious Life. Please be sure to share these articles with others.

As our July NEH Summer Institute comes to a close, we'd like to thank the teachers who participated, and invite you to share a little of their experience:

The Institute, called "Religious Worlds of New York: Teaching the Everyday Life of American Religious Diversity" was funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, and was conducted by ICNY and Union Theological Seminary. Public, private, and parochial school teachers from across the U.S. gathered here in New York City for this three-week institute on teaching religious diversity to K-12 students. While learning from academic scholars of religion, and

Why is this important?

The Thursday Hospitality Center provides a safe and caring space designed to boost morale and raise self-esteem by making the recipients feel welcome.

Your Impact:

Every dollar you give will go towards funding Thursday Hospitality as it strives to make a positive impact on the morale of our returning citizens.

meeting with clergy and lay leaders from diverse faith communities, the institute participants also visited houses of worship in communities large and small. One of many highlights in the course of their study was this performance of a Vodou Vévé Ritual, followed by a discussion of Vodou and Yoruba faith traditions.

As a final note, the Interfaith Center relies on the outstanding work of a dedicated staff: Sarah Sayeed, Henry Goldschmidt, Ellen Greeley, Theo Harris and Kevin Childress. This month marks the one year anniversary of Elly Mason-Murray joining the organization. Elly manages ICNY's Human Resources, runs the office and is involved in the Center's social media. Elly has a B.S. degree in Health Administration/Long Term Care from the University of Phoenix. She is an active member of Trinity Baptist Church in the Bronx, and also volunteers her time participating in public health campaigns related to Sarcoidosis awareness, hypertension, teen pregnancy, elder care, and pet abuse. Congratulations on your anniversary with ICNY, Elly, and thank you for all you do.

Best Wishes,

"Inspiring Engagement"

When we work together great things happen. When people of different faiths work together diverse communities get stronger. We at the Hindu Temple in Flushing, NY have been interacting with The Interfaith Center of New York (ICNY) for a long time and know firsthand quite a bit about the work they do. ICNY acts as a "connector" of motivated individuals from diverse faiths who through their active engagement strive for a constructive end.

ICNY Faith Leader Spotlight

Sister Maryam Husamudeen

Sister Maryam Husamudeen is, to put it simply, a pillar of her community. In her interfaith work and her social justice work in Harlem and around Manhattan, Sister Maryam is a builder of bridges and a connector of people. This is her official roll, as a Peer Bridger for the New York Association of Psychiatric Rehabilitation Services currently. Additionally, she built bridges professionally previously as the program coordinator for SisterLink, the capstone program for Community Action for Prenatal Care (CAPC).

30th Rabbi Marshall T. Meyer Retreat For Social Justice: Harnessing Spirituality and Religion in End of Life Care

Date: Monday, September 22 (registration begin Aug. 20)
Time: 8:30 am - 5:00 pm
Location: Interchurch Center, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, NY 10115 (accessible by the #1 subway, 116th Street, Columbia University stop)

As America evolves into a multiethnic society, the health care sector must also develop culturally and religiously appropriate and effective care for diverse populations. A patient's culture and religion can have significant impact on their reaction to pain, the dying process, and the decisions the patient and family must make. Religious leaders often play an important role in supporting patients and families through end of life care. Come join us for a one-day conference to understand the linkages between caring and healing, improve collaboration with health care professionals including chaplains, and learn more about diverse religious perspectives regarding the end of life and illness. Space is limited so please RSVP ASAP: Fax this form to Sarah Sayeed at (212) 870-3499, or email to ssayeed@interfaithcenter.org, or mail to 475 Riverside Drive, Suite 540 New York, NY 10115. Seminar on Gun Violence and Interfaith Tolerance

Date: September 6
Time: 11:30 am - 5:30 pm

Location: Melba's 125 Harlem State Office Building, 163 125th Street, New York, NY, 10027

As the thirteenth anniversary of September 11, 2001 approaches we seek to honor our loved ones who perished on 9/11 by fostering peaceful communities that embrace alternatives to hatred and violence. This is a conversation that should constantly be at the forefront of our collective efforts. The two major themes to be discussed at this free one-day seminar are preventing gun violence and promoting interfaith tolerance. On hand will be distinguished panelists on each subject to inform and educate as they promote effective community-based initiatives. Please register and RSVP to atlast100@hotmail.com or pianogal.bernstein@gmail.com.

Religions for the Earth A Multifaith Celebration

Date: Sunday, September 21

Time: 6:00 pm

Location: The Cathedral of St. John the Divine, 1047 Amsterdam Ave. (at 112th Street), New York, NY

With our future on the line and the whole world watching, we'll take a stand to bend the course of history. We'll take to the streets to demand the world we know is within our reach: a world with an economy that works for people and the planet; a world safe from the ravages of climate change; a world with good jobs, clean air and water, and healthy communities. After the People's Climate March, join people of different faiths for a commission for the planet. The Religions of the Earth Interfaith Service will take place under an art installation of two giant Phoenix birds made in China from recycled materials. Featuring (Significant Speaker, Significant Speaker), saxophonist Paul Winter, and puppets from Ralph Lee's Metawee Theatre Company. For more information click here.

Administrative Relief from Deportation for Undocumented Immigrants #ALLin4relief Campaign

#ALLin4Relief

In anticipation of the decision the President will announce at the end of the summer about breadth of administrative relief from deportation he will provide for undocumented immigrants, advocates around the country and in New York have launched an effort to persuade the Administration to alleviate suffering in the immigrant community by making that relief as broad as possible. As part of this effort, New Yorkers for Real Immigration Reform (NYRIR) has launched the "#ALLin4relief" campaign. For a complete breakdown of what this campaign includes, click here. For additional information, kindly log on to www.allin4relief.com to access the campaign tool kit and learn more about the campaign. Contact Diane Steinman of the NYS Interfaith Network for Immigration Reform at steinmandiane@gmail.com whether you and your house of worship will be participating in these actions. Should you require additional assistance kindly email Christina Chang at cchang@thenyic.org.
