

THE 34TH RABBI MARSHALL T. MEYER RETREAT FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

Faith-Based Lending and Economic Empowerment

Helping Diverse New Yorkers Build American Dreams

Income inequality . . . predatory lending . . . crippling debt . . . growing problems, but there are solutions! Faith-based lenders help New Yorkers build American dreams on just and equitable terms. Please join us for a discussion of their essential work.

Wednesday, December 6, 12:00 - 5:30 pm, at the Interchurch Center, 475 Riverside Drive.

The conversation will continue over dinner at the Jewish Theological Seminary (3080 Broadway), followed by a discussion of Breaking the Bank: The High Cost of Low-Income Living. Both programs are free, and open to religious and civic leaders from all backgrounds.

For detailed information and registration, please visit <http://interfaithcenter.org/mmr34>.

Cosponsored by

